

Academic Tribunal

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

November 5, 1986

Mr. K.

Etobicoke, Ontario

Dear Mr. K.

At its hearing on October 29, 1986, the Tribunal considered the following charges against you:

1. That on or about April 7, 1986, while a member of the University of Toronto, you did represent as your own ideas and expression of ideas of another in respect of academic work submitted for credit in the course ANT 343 contrary to s.E.1.(a)(ii) of the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters.
2. That on or about April 7, 1986, you did, while a member of the University of Toronto, obtain unauthorized assistance in connection with academic work, contrary to s.E.1.(a)(i) of the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters.
3. That on or about April 10, 1986, while a member of the University of Toronto, you did knowingly represent as your own the ideas and expression of ideas of another in respect of academic work submitted for credit in the course CLA 234 contrary to s.E.1.(a)(ii) of the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters.

The Tribunal accepted your plea of guilty to these charges and imposed the following sanctions:

- suspension from the University of Toronto for five years, the suspension to run until the end of April, 1991;
- a grade of zero in each of ANT 343 and CLA 234;
- a notation on your academic transcript specifying academic misconduct as the reason for each mark of zero and for the suspension, to be recorded for a period of five years until April, 1991;
- a report to the President so that he may publish this decision if he so wishes.

The jury stated that a majority of their members would have chosen expulsion had they been assured that due procedure had been followed at each stage of the process. The sanctions they selected were the next most severe available to them. The jury stated that they might have imposed a shorter period of suspension if it were possible for the sanction to be recorded permanently on your academic record. The jury felt that no lesser penalty would be sufficient to deter you from further offences and to deter others who might be tempted to commit similar offences.

The University of Toronto Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters, which you have already received, sets out rights of appeal in s.L., p.p. 20-22. The deadline for filing an appeal is November 26, 1986.

Sincerely,
